Fernandina Beach Municipal Airport – Beneficial to the Local Economy

An economic impact study completed by the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT), published in March this year, concluded that aviation activities in Florida support almost 1.2 million jobs with an annual payroll of $38.8 billion. There are 121 public use airports in Florida of which 102, which includes Fernandina Beach Municipal, are classified as General Aviation (GA) airports. The total payroll for the GA airports is almost 1.8 billion and total economic activity is nearly $6 billion. According to the study, among GA airports Fernandina Beach Municipal (FHB) annual aviation economic impact ranks 35th in payroll of $10.1 million and 37th in economic activity with $31.2 million. For more details on the report visit the FDOT website at www.dot.state.fl.us/aviation/economicimpact.shtm.

With funding assistance from the FAA and/or FDOT each year our Airport continues to make needed capital improvements. Rehabilitation of Runway 13-31 was completed this month. In June 2010 the FAA published an improved approach to Runway 13 from LNAV to LPV and added a LNAV approach to Runway 22. Earlier this year two new privately built corporate hangars (100x100 and 80x70) in the east area of the Airport were completed and occupied. These new corporate hangars were possible due to Airport infrastructure improvements completed in 2009. Also in the summer of 2009 Taxiway C extension was completed. In the summer of 2008 ten new t-hangars/bulk hangars for new airport tenants were occupied. Capital improvements on the immediate horizon include rehabilitation of a remaining portion of Taxiway B and further growth assistance to the east area by installation of new Taxiway E.

To most communities its Airport runways are considered as important as main streets providing people access to the community and a stimulate to the local economy. Our Airport is and continues to be an economic driver for Fernandina Beach.
